

THE EVENING CRITIC.
ESTABLISHED AUGUST, 1868.

MR. RIGGS' OBSEQUES.

Funeral Services at St. Aloysius.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock the funeral services over the body of the late George W. Riggs took place at St. Aloysius Church, and the auditorium of the church was filled to overflowing. Among those present were the Sisters of Charity, Sisters of the Holy Cross, Little Sisters of the Poor, the orphan boys from St. Joseph's and the orphan girls from St. Vincent and St. Rose, besides a large number of the immediate friends and acquaintances of the deceased and citizens generally, assembled to show, for the last time, their respect for one of Washington's eminent citizens.

The body was brought to the church, immediately before the ceremony, from his country residence, the active bearers being six of his farm tenants. The honorary pallbearers were the following eight gentlemen: William J. Walters, Baltimore; John Elliott, New York; John W. Burke, Alexandria; John G. Parke, Anthony Hyde, Thomas Evans, Calderon Carlisle and John Seldon, of Washington. Mr. Elliott was the partner of Mr. Riggs in the New York House. Mr. Walters, the eminent and wealthy Baltimore merchant.

The coffin was heaped with floral decorations, and Father Lynch officiated in the funeral ceremonies. There were present also Fathers Fulton, president of Gonzaga College; Mulhally, of Georgetown College; Rochfort, of Trinity Church, Georgetown; Brinell, Newman, Foran, Poner, and Connell, of St. Aloysius; Gen. Sherman, Associate Justice Harlan, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, French, representatives from the English and Japanese Legations, the District Commissioners, the Washington Gas-light Company, the Washington and Georgetown Railroad, and the Corcoran Art Gallery, and Mr. James Wornley.

After the services the long procession formed and wended its way slowly to Rock Creek Cemetery.

The funeral was under the charge of Mr. R. F. Harvey, the well-known undertaker. Messrs. Francis B. Riggs, J. K. Riggs, and William C. Riggs, who came from New York to attend the funeral, returned to that city last night, as did Mr. W. T. Walters to Baltimore.

Excursions.

On Tuesday next one of the pleasant excursions of the season will be given by the Committee of Three, Messrs. B. C. Davis, John McCaffrey and John A. Barry, on the John W. Thompson to Cedar Point. We have previously advised our readers to attend. Cedar Point has grown to be one of the institutions of this section, being the most delightful resort on the river, and having the finest arrangements, in style and appointments, on the Potomac.

To-morrow the steamer Excelsior—the finest that ever sailed our waters—will give its excursion trip to Piney Point. Salt water bathing, sea air and delightful accommodations. The Excelsior leaves her wharf at 9 a. m., returning at 5 p. m. The George Leary leaves this evening for the Cape, Fort Monroe and Norfolk. No pleasure or more invigorating excursion could be extended to the general public. It affords a delicious trip, and gives a grand view of the ocean.

The bathing at Piney Point, and the excellent hotel and bath-house appointments, can be taken advantage of by our citizens, as the Excelsior stops at that popular resort on all her trips.

The Mary Washington continues her trips to Ocean City and Mount Vernon Springs every Sunday, Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning, returning on the evenings of each day. These excursions are charming and popular.

The elegant steamer Lady of the Lake makes her regular trips to Norfolk and Fortress Monroe each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, leaving at 5:30 p. m. The conditions and accommodations of the steamer are nationally popular, having been for years past especially patronized by guests as well as residents of the National Capital.

Vital Statistics for July.

The Health Officer issued to-day the monthly report for July. The statement shows the births, marriages, and deaths during the month, and contains also a meteorological summary. The number of deaths in the District was 481, which is 110 more than during the corresponding month last year, and was divided as follows: White, 239; male, 131; female, 115. Colored, 145; male, 118; female, 127. The deaths exceeded those during June by 161.

There were 20 deaths from old age, 9 from lock-jaw—7 of which resulted from toy-pistol wounds; 5 persons were drowned, 1 run over, 2 killed by a mule, 2 homicides, and 2 suicides.

There were 286 births—72 white males, 74 white females; 73 colored males, 67 colored females.

Forty-eight marriages were reported—33 being white and 15 colored.

The Asphalt Monopoly.

In reply to a letter from Lieut. Green stating that their contracts would be forfeited if they did not resume work on them, Messrs. Bailey and Fletcher replied to-day in a letter stating that it was impossible for them to proceed at present, owing to the fact that asphalt could not be obtained.

In conclusion the letter says: "We have gone so far as to send $2,500 to Trinidad to purchase asphalt, but have so far received no assurance that any amount can be or has been purchased. Under the circumstances I can only throw myself upon the mercy of your honorable board."

Notice to Sportsmen.

Mr. Wm. Wagner, No. 2071 Pennsylvania avenue southwest, has been constituted to be the agent for the sale of brace-loading guns in the city, which he will offer at greatly reduced prices for the next thirty days. All guns warranted.

The Spencerian Business College will resume its regular sessions Monday morning and evening. Large numbers of enterprising young people have entered for the full course during the present week.

Transfers of Real Estate.

Deeds were filed as follows to-day: Wm. A. Gordon and others, trustees, to David F. Robinson, lots 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, in the sub. of the Nichols Place, $2,155; Maria L. Cate and her husband to W. M. W. DeLoe, lot 31, 32 of Kelley's sub. of square 889, $1,400; John W. Shiles and wife to Francis M. Scala, lot 48, square 933, $700; F. W. Jones and wife, to John W. Knowing.

One summer day to a young child I said, "Write to thy mother, boy." With earnest face And laboring fingers, all unused to trace The mystic characters, he bent his head. (That should have danced amid the flowers instead.)

Over the blurred page for a half-hour's space Then with a sigh that burdened all the place Cried, "Mamma knows," and out to sunshine sped.

O, soul of mine, when tasks are hard And Life so crowds thee with its stress and strain, That thou, half fainting, art too tired to pray, Drink thou this wine of blessing and be strong! God knows! What trouble the lips be dumb with pain. Or the pen drops? No knows what thou wouldst say.

—Julia C. R. Dorr.

The Richmond Water Famine.

The leading feature in connection with the water famine in Richmond yesterday was the action taken by the Richmond & Alleghany Railroad in sending a force of hands up the river and closing the water gates on the canal at Rutherford's Mill, which were opened under peremptory orders issued by Mayor Carrington. As soon as that official learned of this action he had a detachment of police ordered to the scene, upon instructions to prevent any one from interfering with the vent opened in the canal for the purpose of increasing the volume of water flowing into the pump-house. The railroad officials, on the other hand, instructed their men to obtain a warrant from the nearest county magistrate for the arrest of the policemen or any one else who made any attempt to reopen the gates or in any other way to divert water from the canal into the city's race. Fearing, however, that Rutherford's Mill might not be within the criminal jurisdiction of the city, the idea of keeping the gates at that point open was abandoned and a vent a short distance from the pump-house opened in the canal, and fifteen policemen put in charge of it for the night to prevent any one from closing it up.

At a special meeting of the common council last night a resolution was passed appropriating $80,000 for the purchase of a steam pump and engines with capacity of six million gallons every twenty-four hours, the same to be placed in working order in six weeks from the time the contract is signed. The matter now goes to the board of aldermen, the other branch of the council, for its action.

The course adopted by the mayor in diverting water from the canal into the pump-house promises to afford partial relief and give the city about one-half rations of water six out of twenty-four hours. The Richmond & Alleghany Railroad Company claim that they are compelled, under their charter, to furnish the Tredgar iron works, Gallego flouring mills, and all other establishments here dependent upon that water course for motive power with water. The action of that company to-day in shutting down the gates was for the purpose of protecting these parties in their rights. No conflict of authority nor trouble are apprehended.

The skies are anxiously watched and new rains in the meantime earnestly hoped for by the people, all of whom are now forced to rely two-thirds of the time upon springs and wells for water. The immense draught upon these during the past few days has exhausted many.

The Dynamite Council.

N. Y. Sun.

While O'Donovan Rossa was sitting with Patrick Coleman in the office of the United Irishman, a gentleman entered and asked: "When does the Dynamite Council meet again?"

"This evening at 7 o'clock," Mr. Rossa replied in a confidential tone. The reporter, Mr. Rossa said: "The executive committee of the Society of United Irishmen and the Skirmishing Directory are now holding an important joint council. They were in session all night. The council is for the purpose of determining on measures of aggression against England. The council was purposely delayed until after the Chicago convention of the Clan-na-Gael, so that we might act in the light of their proceedings. Measures are being taken toward a compromise and union with the Chicago Division. We are separated from them, though working for a common end. They have the original skirmishing fund, amounting to some $92,000. We have a separate fund that is steadily increasing. On this side of the water we furnish money and materials. Men on the other side use them, but where they will strike we know not."

"Are you manufacturing any dynamite machines now?"

"I cannot answer."

"In blowing up a vessel will you not destroy innocent lives?"

"That cannot be avoided. When England is at war she destroys many lives. In the Zulu war in South Africa the English troops throw dynamite into the caves of the natives. Our desire is, however, not to kill anyone, but merely to destroy English commerce."

"May we expect another explosion shortly?"

"I cannot say. We will at least get the credit of every accidental explosion in England. I receive many letters from Great Britain saying that our work has already accomplished great good in terrifying the authorities. Here is a paper got from Liverpool, which I suppose, was sent to you. It contained a report of the trial of the dynamite men, with their sentences by Justice Lopez—one for life and one for fifteen years. Inside the paper is written: 'From Justice Lopez with Mr. Gladstone's compliments.'"

"Does the passage of the Land bill change your views?"

"No; the Land bill is no good, and will not stop us."

"What will the council do to-night?"

"I can't tell you."

The Colored Methodist Protestant Conference.

The second day's session of the Methodist Protestant Conference at Montello, D. C., was opened at 8:30 a. m. yesterday with the reading of the 24th chapter of Genesis and singing the 149th psalm, followed by prayer by Bro. Elisha Gray. Afterward the following committees were appointed: Res. John A. Scott and Jacob Ross and Brother Elisha Gray on credentials; Rev. J. Scott and Brothers Elisha Gray and Wm. H. Holland on committee on admission of members; Brother Wm. Anderson, Rev. J. Scott and Rev. Mr. Ross on committee on boundaries; and the conference adjourned at 3:30 p. m.

The Hod-Carriers' Society.

Yesterday Joseph R. Harris, J. T. Reeder, Frank Smith, Lucien Allen, George Brown, James H. Reeder and H. A. Green filed certificate of incorporation at the City Hall. The object of the members of the society (who are hod-carriers) shall be mutual benefit in all cases of sickness of the members, or improper interference with them by bosses.

An Outrageous Assault.

Frank Jackson, as black as the hinges of Hades, was hauled up to-day before Judge Rundle for putting his arm around Miss Len Flood, a pretty white blonde, on Pennsylvania avenue east. The evidence showed that the embrace was a most brutal one, and Judge Rundle committed Jackson to jail for six months.

Notes and Comments.

—It was the famous knife-grinder that never had a tale to tell, but the scissor-grinder of Indianapolis, hale and hearty, is always telling that he is 101 years of age, and is marked with the scars of 150 wounds received under Wellington.

—A remarkably successful modern novelist advocates in theory and practice that it is better, as well as easier in description, to write velvet than calico, and it looks finer in print. A good deal of news seems to be fabricated upon a similar principle.

—Something new in the way of summer amusements is much needed, and the long felt want has been supplied in Georgia by a novel style of party. They go out hunting and return with snakes six feet long, and with their pockets full of rattles.

—Nova Zemba cannot be a very desirable place of residence or the czar would not find it necessary to offer ready money inducements beside freedom from taxation to any colonist who will continue there ten years, with permission to return at the close of half the term.

—Diamonds have been considered heretofore the most valuable form of carbon, but they may give place to the newer combination which takes the shape of a light, indestructible, semi-elastic metal, just the thing requisite for solving the difficulties of submarine isolation, and precisely fitted for the passage-ways or tunnels for the underground telegraph wires.

—Instead of foisting away money on acclimatization schemes the public ought to demand that the culture of the papaw should be forthwith entered upon, with vigor. If the fruit of that precious tree be wrapped round the toughest steak or most advanced spring chicken, the flesh will become tender immediately.

He said if they were good-looking widows he would like to see them home as not, though he would prefer to escort but one at a time.—Cincinnati Saturday Night.
